

A workplace injury can tragically change lives in seconds.

We're here to help.

WHO WE ARE

Led by a group of construction professionals who are passionate about their industry and the people who comprise it, the Construction Family Assistance Foundation was founded in 2012 to ease the burden of life-changing workplace incidents and allow families to begin healing in the most difficult of times.

OUR MISSION

Financially assisting construction workers and their families who have been affected by a life-changing workplace injury by providing timely monetary support to bridge short-term, immediate needs with future resources.

WHO WE HELP

Indiana construction and construction-related maintenance workers and their families impacted by a life-changing jobsite incident.

The CFA Foundation does not judge who is at fault, and it does not affect our decision on who we help. The Foundation awards gifts that are flexible, varied and discretionary.

Our assistance is considered a gift and is not subject to income tax.

We're here for construction workers and their families.

No judgement.

No strings attached.

HOW WE HELP

The CFA Foundation works to provide financial assistance as soon as possible after an incident to bridge the gap until workers' compensation or other insurance is available to the family.

Applications are reviewed shortly after they are received. If an application meets the Foundation guidelines, it is submitted to the Board of Directors for approval.

Funds may be used for various items including, but not limited to, groceries, gasoline, travel expenses, education, utilities, car payments, childcare, legal expenses, rent, mortgage payments, counseling, clothing or funeral expenses.

"We did not realize how much people in this world still care when tragedy strikes total strangers. Your caring and kindness are so uplifting... We want you to know how much you helped us during the holidays and days to come and how great you made us feel."
